As they drifted into the saloo an apparent absence of that enthusiasm and sation involved the probability of an effort sation involved the probability of an effort on the part of the convention to onst Jos. G. Vastine from his position as candidate for Criminal Judge and the means to be employed to accomplish that purpose. A great deal of talk was indulged in as to the rights of the convention and inability of that body to rescind its action nominating Vastine, but that was quieted in short order by the opinions of prominent Republicans that the convention was the supreme power of the party, and, as such, could take any action it deemed advisible under the circumstances. Most of the candidates nominated at the last convention were present in anticipation of a demand for their resignation in the event of the convention deciding to nominate an entire ticket.

THE CONVENTION
was called for 10 o'clock, but it was 11 o'clock before Chairman Leo Rassieur rapped it to order. Mr. Rassieur sald that under a resolution passed by the City Central Committee the convention was again called to fill the vacancies caused by withdrawais and resignations.

and the committee I close. I cannot resign. If elected I go there to do my duty and nothing but my duty."

Mr. Rassieur then took the foor. He said:

"It behooves us now to take caim and deliberate action. This convenion has made no charges or insinuations against any person or persons. The gentlemen who have just offered their declinations are as good and pure as any man who is afraid to come forward and follow their action. [Applause.] It is the privilege of the gentleman who has just spoken to say that the chair man of this convention did not know where he stood when he called this convention was to act you are no convention—that you do not know where he stood when he called this convention to forward and tologether again. He tells you in one word that you are no convention—that you do not know where he stood when he called this convention was to act you are no convention—that you do not know where he stood when he called this convention was to act you are no convention—that you do not know where he stood when he called this convention was to act you are no convention—that you do not know where he stood when he called this convention was to act you are no convention—that you are no convention—that you are no convention. The chair called have the of the previous question was peaking about—what the matter was? Pandemonium ensued, amid cries of "Sit down, Collins!" "Go ahead, Rassieur!" "Hurrat for Yastine!"

The Chair, after obtaining quiet, ruled that Mr. Rassieur had a right to continue his remains.

Mr. Rassieur continued: "I shall make a wronged no one. If me where liave wrong it right if it takes the cist the turning point out from this convention out from this convention to the previous question. Mr. Kaiser, in view of tion had been presented their called have the on the previous question.

Mr. Rassieur continued: "I shall make a motion. This convention is no convention, according to the gentleman. After saying you have been called for the purpose of filling vacancies as he says I want to know if you are not a convention. The six gentlemen who turned back their nominations have not spoken of charges and trials. Mr. Vastine has called up the question of trials. Let him go into court with his trials and not on the Republican party's ticket. He should say the individual sinks when the party so orders. He is appealing to your sympathics, but when he speaks of fair play in the position he assumes he speaks nonsense. His absent friends are a baker's dozen. He says is createn me at the polis, but a Republican want to go to the polis with a ticket on which every men is superior to his Democratic op-

A minute after Will Gardner bought 100 shares from Brentano at $5.25. Connor offered fifty at $5.35, which were taken by Jacobs. $5.50 was bid with offers at $5.40 until the close, when Brentano sold 100 shares to Goldman at $5.30. Goldman's two little deals rung out a profit of $20.

The last of the Bolanos stock was closed out this morning at $1.20, the subscription rate. Three orders were received for 5,000 shares each, one from a St. Louis capitalist, one from Chicago and one from a stockholder in Mexico. An encouraging report was received from the superintendent of the Yavapai this morning. In the last report he said that he was saving 60 per cent. Now, by gradual adjustment of the ore to the concentrator he is saving 84 per cent. At present he is running the product of all the ten stamps over the new concentrator where formerly he was obliged to divide it between two concentrators. He reports the metal running 25 ounces to the ton average and $1.35 was bid this morning for 400 shares of the stock, which were held at $1.40.

The Wiggins Ferry Company pool has not been closed up yet. A number of the stock-holders are absent from the city, and as every one is to be given an opportunity to come in there will be no effort made to hasten the closing of the pool for some months. Frank Ridgely, who controls 500 shares, returned from Europe this morning. He has signified his intention of coming in. Mrs. Pougnet, who lower in the will come in. The small shareholders who have signified their willingness to join will make the additions to the 6,000 shares in the pool at least 1,000. In consideration of terminal facilities given them by the Wiggins Company prior to 1870, the Chicago & Alton agreed to give its Susiness forever to the Wiggins Company. The ferry company sued for breach of contract and obtained judgment in the lower court. The Court of Appeals reversed this decision but was overruled by the Supreme Court of the State. Then the matter was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States. A decision favorable to the ferry is anticipated, and the result has been prestly swil discounted but if the case is thrown out of court next week it will strengthen the stock.

The negotiations between the Gas Trust and the Laciede Gaslight Company having falled the stockholders of the Laciede are going quietly to work to reorganize their pool. The pool formed last January to run for one year was engineered by J. W. Donaldson as broker for some of the heaviest stockholders. Mr. Donaldson, John J. Mitchell, the heaviest local stockholder, and John E. Liggett were made trustees of the pool which contained $000,000 of the $1,600,000, shares of stock. The Gas Trust people falled in their negotiations with the members of the pool, partly on account of the stubbornness of John I Mitchell. Now, the Water Gas people are waiting in hopes that when the pool expires in January next they will be enabled to obtain enough Laciede stock to give them a controlling interest. Since the Gas Trust election, however, the principal members of the Laciede pool have been quietly organizing another pool to sacceed is in January next and hold over for another year. Mr. Donaldson is to be dropped this time, and Mr. Eltzen of Hermann, Mo., the holder of 1,000 shares, the largest Western holding, is to be made one, of the trustees. The pool is being organized this early for fear negotiations abould fail if left to the last minute. It is expected that a majority of the stock will go into this new pool, but this is not assured as yet.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, October 11.—The Dally News' announcement of the Unionist home rule bill is already generally discredited. The News teself this morning practically retracts it, saying naively that the Ministers will be guided by circumstances which will in all probability lead them to modify their intentions. The Times says Hartington's explicit contra-diction was not required to assure the country that there is no foundation for the story that that there is no foundation for the story that the Cabinet have framed a home rule bill, and secured for it the approval of the leaders of the Liberal-Unionists. The Standard simply remarks that if scantiness of real information of some writers, the public makes allowance for the temptations to which they have saccumbed. The Pail Mail Gazette says: "The details given in the Daily News are indeed, as we said Saturday, hardly worth discussing for they are certainly both premature and inaccurate. The Tories will as good as capitulate in the long run, but salisbury is not likely to give home rule all at once. This, however, is what the scheme of provincial councils would amount scheme of provincial councils would amount to." The provincial press regards the whole

THE SOCIALISTS.

The St. James Gazette says: "Enthusiastic socialists declare that thousands of men regularly drill in London, and they boast that they are able to put 100,006 armed men into the streets. The more moderate socialists fear that the enthusiastic secret teaching is telling dangerously on East End poverty and ruffilansim."

On Saturday a crowd booted at a number of peasants who were assembled in the garden at the Russian consulate. The peasants replied by throwing blocks of wood and stones. The crowd retailated, whereupon the Montenegrins and Cavasses in the garden of the Consulate fired upon the mob. Fifteen revolver builets struck the walls of the British and German Consulates. The peasants subsequently left the Consulate. They said they did not know for what purpose their presence was required, but that they had been induced to come to Sofia by six chiefs. THE ALERT RETURNS.
HALIFAX, N. S., October 11.—The Government steamer Alert returned to Halifax yesterday afternoon after an absence of nearly four months. This was the final trip of the Alert to the Hudson Bay region, all the observing stations being dismantied and the observing stations being dismantied and the observers, their instruments and other property brought back to Halifax. Commander Gordon says: "We sailed from Halifax on June 24 and went direct to Nachvak Station. On our arrival off the station the ice was so thick and heavy that the steamer could not get into the coast. So we pushed on to the entrance to the straits. Thick togs then beset us, continuing three or four days, during which the steamer became surrounded by loe and drifted south to a distance of seventy miles. When the weather cleared we worked to the sastward out of the ice pack and steamed up its edge to the north side of the strait. Here a perfectly clear entrance was found, quite different from the south side, where the loe field prevented our entry into the bay. No ice was encountered again until North Bluff was reached, and in making from that point to Diggs seven or eight days were occupied. At Diggs the Alert remained two days making repairs and receiving a general overhauling. On the fourth day the expedition was continued to Churchill Harbor on the west side of Hudson Bay, thist point being reached at the end of July, Churchill Harbor was aurveyed and was found to be a spiendid harboring place, with not less than twenty-four feet of water at low spring tide. York Factory was reached two days after leaving Churchill. Here a reconnoissance survey was made of the estuary of the Nelson Biver and we found it a villanous place. During the stay here a gale was experienced, and the Alert roiled so much that her boats hanging in their dayits would dip water up out of the sea. The water was so shallow at such a distance from land that a vessel could be only in five fathoms of water and at the same time land could not be sighted from her deck. The roadstead affords a very unsafe anchorage, and ment steamer Alert returned to Halifax yes-terday afternoon after an absence of nearly

To protest against the verdict in the anarchists' trial, 20 men and twenty-three women assembled in Schalis' Hall, corner of Sheridan street and North Avenue, in the town of Jefferson, last evening. The speakers were Julius H. Kratts, Justice Fred Englehart, Dr. Klein and others. Justice Englehart said his position would indicate that he was a servant of the law, but he disavowed any connection with that sort of law under which these eight men were convicted. It was a judicial murder and the working classes would not stand by and see their patron saints murdered. The speaker closed with an attack on the monopies.

A man named Preissieman made a wild speech, saying that after the speeches made by the convicted nen, it would be cowardice for him and his hearers to be less radical. He advised his hearers to organize, not for the coming slection, but as a body of avengers in case the sentence was executed. "Three was once an inspector of police named Rumpff," he concluded; "there may be an Inspector Rumpff in Chicayo." (Rumpff was the name of the police official killed in Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, a few months ago.) The audience grew restless during Preissieman's speech and were much relieved when he stopped.

NEW RECRUITS JOINING THE RANKS OF THE fears That the Entire Stock Yards Force Will Go Out-All the Packing Houses Closed To-Day-Strikers Irritated at the Presence of Armed Pinkerton Men-The Knights of Labor Convention - A Big Holiday at CHICAGO, October 11 .- None of the large pork-packing establishments at the Union Stock yards opened their doors this morning, and none of the 16,000 men usually employed in these departments offered to return to work on the ten-hour basis proposed by the owners of the packing-houses. There is a tremendous crowd of idle mer in and about the yards, but there was no disturbance during the early hours of the forenoon .Shortly before 9 o'clock fifty of the beefkillers employed in the Fowler Packing-house stopped work and joined the main body of the strikers. the early nours of the lorenoon. Shortly before 9 o'clock fifty of the beefkillers employed in the Fowler Packing-house stopped work and joined the main body of the strikers. Shortly after the men employed to load the freight cars by the Armour house also stopped work, and the pressure from the strikers is so great that the lear is entertained that the strike will involve all the men employed about the yards and occasion an entire cessation of work in all houses.

Hining New Men.

The two delegates sent by the general convention of the Knights of Labor to endeavor to adjust the troubles among the men at the stock yards, have arrived and are now holding a consultation with the strikers. They have as yet had no conference with the packers. It can be stated positively, however, that the latter are not disposed to compromise, but will insist upon the ten hours. The presence of an increased force of Pinkerton men armed with Winchesters had a very irritating effect upon the men this morning, and was the cause of swelling the force of strikers to-day. It is asserted by many that the packers are not very anxious to have the trouble adjusted. They have been paying very high prices for hogs lately, and the stocks on hand are considerable, so that a temporary suspension would not be disagreeable to them. This report, however, the packers strenuously deny and assert that they are anxious to keep all departments running. Armour is bringing men in from different parts of the country to take the strikers' places, and says he can go the strikers of the country to take the strikers places, and says he can go the strikers of the country to take the strikers places, and says he can go the strikers of the country to take the strikers him morning. The October Grand-Jury.

The Grand-jury for the October term of the Oriminal Court was to have been selected and sworn in to-day, but out of the panel of forty only hine answered to their names, that being all that were personally seved. Of the forty on the panel seven were dead and a number of others absent from the city, while several were served only by copy. There being only nine men from which to select a jury of twelve. Judge Van Wagoner made no attempt to examine any of them. Duty discharged them all until to-morrow miorning. In the meantime others will be served and the jury will probably be selected to-morrow.

A proposal to establish a co-operative p acking house received unanimous support. It was said that the necessary capital could be readily secured and that there would be no trouble in securing a location. One delegate proposed that if Armour continues the fight against the men, his meats be placed under everlasting boycott and his business transferred to the co-operative house. The matter of founding the establishment will be considered at another meeting.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Big Demonstration To-Day at Richmon RICHMOND, Va., October 11 .- To-day is devoted by the delegates of the General Assembly of Knights of Labor to the enjoyment of the entertainment arranged in their honor by Knights of the local assemblies of this city. In accordance with the Mayor's proclamaorder to permit the employes to take part in shops, manufactories and other establish white and colored Knights were seen everywhere dressed in holiday attire, wearing badges and insignia of their order. The delegates to the General Assembly were to assemble at 8 o'clock at Armory Hall, but it was long past that hour when they received word to fall in line and proceed to Broad and Fourth streets, where the procession was formed. After 10 o'clock, when the word "March" was given, the delegates and local assemblies with headquarters west of Tenth street marched down Broad street to Twentieth where they were joined by the assemblies of the eastern end of the city. Then the entire body marched to Main street, to Laurel, thence to the State Fair Grounds, at the upper end of the city. When the entire procession formed it contained between four and five thousand men. It was headed by a squad of police. Behind rode on horseback Grand Marshal Lynch, white and colored aides riding on either side of him. Behind the marching men rode in carriages and the baby delegate 3 weeks old, daughter of District Master Workman Rogers of Chicago.

A few colored women rode in carriages, bringing up the rear of this part of the procession. The right of line of the local Knights was held by Pioneer Assembly 2572, of Richmond, composed of colored Knights of Labor, headed by a colored band. Then came white assemblies again, and bringing up the rear were colored assemblies. A count showed 2,800 men marching on foot, of whom 1,600 were colored, and forty carriages containing four to six persons each The streets along the route were lined with spectators. The eastern end of the city especially was thronged, the entire colored population seeming to have turned out to within the grounds the entrance of the Fair Grounds, and from it be reviewed the procession as it passed through the entrance gates. Within the arriage numbers of Knights of Richmond and visiting Knights from Lynchburg, Petersburg and other places, who had come to take part in the entertainment, seeking introductions to him. THE FERGUSON FAILURE.

Affected Banks Stand.

CHICAGO, October 11.—William A. Nash, President, and John A. Bower, Treasurer of the Corn Exphange Bank of New York, arrived in the city last evening. Mr. Nash was met at grain house of J. C. Ferguson & Co., through Nathan M. Neeld, son-in-law of Mr. E. W. Ferguson, and one of the firm. Of the $400,000 which Neeld swindled the several banks out of, it was reported that $100,000 was lost by the Corn Exchange Bank of New York.

banks out of, it was reported that $100,000 was lost by the Corn Exchange Bank of New York. Messrs. Nash and Bower stated to a reporter that they had come to Chicago to investigate the Ferguson failure. They had been doing business with Ferguson & Co. through the latter's New York agents, Howard & Co. At nu time had they held more than $30,000 of Ferguson's paper, and at the present time their holdings aggregate probably not more than $75,000, for which they hold securities from which they can realize about $25,000. The remainder was loaned upon the bogus warehouse receipts Issued by Neeld. After the above facts were developed the young bank president said: "Our loss will not reach very near to $100,000, but the Corn Exchange Bank could contemplate such a loss with a great deal of complacency."

There is a strong prospect that the action of Neeld will result in some extensive and bitter litigation. The creditors are disposed to hold that the Board of Trade stands in the position of a guaranto of all warehouse receipts issued from a warehouse which has been deciared regular by it, and that a common law liability exists which the Board will find it difficult to escape. The points involved are all new ones in legal and financial affairs and the question is a very complicated one. A reporter called on Mr. E. W. Ferguson at No. 2809 Michigan avenue, last night. Mr. Ferguson said that he regretted extremely that he was unable at present to throw any light on the subject of the failure. He hoped during the week to be able to make a statement. He knew nothing of Mr. Neeld's whereabouts, nor did he knew how he managed to obtain the large sums of money he did. In fact, Mr. Ferguson knew nothing.

on the bodies were held at the Coroner's office to-day. Dick Hodgins, "bouncer" at Esber's Theater was the first withes examined. He testified that he had known ella Lanham, or Josie Martell, as she was known on the stage, for about eleven years, and that she claimed to have been married to Frank Sammyer, who killed her. About?:30 last evening the witness was told by a couple of women that Frank had killed Josie Martell. On running down stairs he saw Sammyer plunge a knife into himself and plunge it in a second time before he could reach him. When he took the knife from him, and he asked Sammyer what he had done, the unfortunate fellow fell dead. In the dressing-room the witness found the woman dead, stabbed in the breast and arm. He could assign no cause for the more made, but in answer to inquiries concerning the extent of the liabilities and the cause of the failure, he would only respond that he guessed the public would have to "wait awhile."

Harry Wergman, of No. 2100 Division street, was at the theater last night and was called downstairs by a woman who ran up crying murder. He saw Sanmyer stab himself three times in the breast and caught him as he fell. Going into the next room he saw the woman lying there dead.

Georgie Hiller, an actress at the theater, knew both Elia Lanham and Frank Sammyer. She understood they had been married two months ago. Yesterday atternoon they were at the matinee together and appeared quite affectionate. As she went to go to the dressing-room of the theater about 6 o'clock last evening she found them seated on the steps leading to it, each having an arm about the other's neck. As she moved toward the table in the dressing-room, she heard and saw them kiss. She heard Sanmyer ask the woman, "Are you going to do that?" and heard her reply, "No, Frankle, I am not." The witness saw him strike the woman and then draw the dagger out of her breast and repeat the blow two or three times. He showed her from him and as she was moving off she turned and saw Sanmyer stabbing himself. The wounded woman cried to him; "Oh, Frankle, don't kill your-self!" The witness, after seeing the man stab himself twice, rurned and ran toward the dressing-room. Josie Martell followed her, holding her hand on her breast and fell dead on the floor of the second dressing room on the second floor. The witness knew nothing of the cause of the suicide. Emma Jerome, another actress at the theater, heard Sanmyer call Josie Martell and saw them conversing in a low tone. They appeared kind and affectionate, and heard him, afterward, tell her to place her arms around her neck and kiss him. She did so, and as she started to move off he drew a dagger, and placing his left hand on her breast, him witness ran into the dressing-room, and when she again came out Josie passed her, holding her hand on her breast, and her and saying

Then he fell a corpse at the foot of the stairs. Josie Martell's real name was Elia Lambert. She was born about thirty years ago at Centralis, Ill., where at the time of her death she was supporting some of her younger brothers. She was first employed by Esher fourteen years ago. Since that time is she has spent all her time on the variety stage, varying the monotony of her theatrical life with occasional matrimonial adventures. Her first husband was Frank Addis, a negro comedian, with whom she lived six years. She see strated from Addis and married a waiter in a Chicago variety theater. Soon after she obtained a Chicago rapid-transit divorce and married a song-and-dance man named Harry Eloomer. Nine months ago she separated from him and went to live with Sanmyer at 515 O'Failon street. She claimed to have been married to Sanmyer, but she had never been divorced from Bloomer, and he is still alive. Frank Sanmyer is the son of Mrs. James Brogan, who keeps a boarding-house at 1821 Lucas avenue. His step-father is night watchman for the Simmons Hardware Company. SENATOR INGALLS recently told a crowd in Kansas that the Democrats will soon attempt to pay the confederate debt; and then declared that he had become a straight-out Prohibitionist. This shows that a man can be a liar and a Prohibitionist at the same time and not damage his health.

THE General Assembly of the Knights of Labor have remonstrated with Rhode Island for disfranchising citizens on ac count of their poverty. The Knights show a laudable ambition in their desire to civ ilize Rhode Island up to the equal rights standard, and the difficulties of the undertaking should not discourage them.

Local nominees who are displeased with their ticket should remember that BLAINE didn't get off the Presidential ticket because Logan used to be a half-way Secessionist, and that Logan clung to his place in spite of BLAINE's lucrative casting of anchors. A candidate should be just nice enough, but not too nice, in considering the matter of uncouth associations.

THE Globe-Democrat this morning attempts to lift the Congressional question out of the region of farce and to treat it as a matter of serious discussion. This is an indication that there is no hope of defeating Mr. GLOVER by calling him "JOHNNY," and in the interest of intelligent politics we congratulate our esteemed

WHILE St. Louis has been enjoying the Templars' Conclave, the Exposition, the Fair, and GILMORE's Band, Chicago has had the pleuro-pneumonia, the sentence of the anarchists, and the lockout of the pork-packers. There is, of course, more excitement in Chicago than in St. Louis. but there are certain classes of people who would rather live in St. Louis than in

THE Russian agents in Sofia have finally succeeded in inducing a number of Macedonian peasants to raise a small riot and attempt to stop the elections. This, of course, exasperated the Bulgarians, who threatened to mob the Consulate, and were fired upon by the Consul's servants. This is an approach towards the state of affairs that is desired as an excuse for Russian interference and occupation.

In no other city of the world will the anniversary of the discovery of America be celebrated as appropriately as in St. Louis to-morrow. Thanks to the patriotic and intelligent munificence of HENRY SHAW, our city now possesses a statue of Columnus, worthy of the giver and of the beautiful site it is to adorn in Tower Grove Park, and to-morrow it will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies. A monument to COLUMBUS in keeping with the heroic bronzes which the taste of Mr. Snaw has selected for the park will be an art treasure as well as a memorial, and its dedication is an occasion which should call together a brilliant assemblage

THE sad case of the celebrated Yankee Doodle who "couldn't see the town, there was so many houses," has been nearly matched in St. Louis recently by the conition of the people who could not see the osition because there were so many of looking at it. Of course our country ins were welcome, and will be welne during the whole Exposition season, ate at the concert and enjoy the full nefit of the greatest show on earth, and more av

THE NINTH DISTRICT.

The choice of a man to represent the Ninth District, the greatest commercial and industrial district in the Mississippi Valley, is too serious a thing to be settled by flippant paragraphs about "Par" and "JOHNNY." It involves the solution of problems affecting the wealth and commerce of half a continent—teeming with production and swarming with many millions of busy toilers. The end in view rises in importance far above any question of party, except as party may, from

A practical people must recognize the fact that sending a Republican to repcratic President is obviously not the best way of promoting St. Louis interests and through the rooks and quicksands of national legislation. To send Hon. D. P. Dyer to Congress under any circumstances would be requiring a sacrifice of him which should be exacted only for good reasons appertaining to the public welfare. To put him up as a Republican nominee for Congress when the public welfare demands the re-election of the Democratic nominee is to sacrifice a good man on the alter of mere party service without any public consideration whatver to redeem the cruelty of the thing.

over to redeem the cruelty of the thing.

The only possible plea in palliation grows out of the delusion that GLOVER's Democratic enemies will work up enough Democratic treachery in the district to defeat him. But they displayed their extreme weakness when they exhibited their inability to induce any Democrat to run against him for the party nomination, and they know very well how his defeat will paralyze them as Democratic aspirants for many a long year to come. St. Louis needs a Democrat, not a Republican, to represent her in Congress just now, a Democrat with plenty of combative and the constraints which the realisance style was chosen, which the renaisance style was chosen, which the renaisance style was chosen, which the renaisance of the duel and the three tableaux in which the ghost appeared or stime played most majestically by Laubant, whose full form appeared each time growing gradually into phantour shape. The material arrangement of the ghost scenes, devised by the famous seems painter Lavastre, was simple and effective. The stage was left dark, and the ghost appeared in the thickness of the walls rendered transparent by means of hangings of metallic gauze, on which, at the required moment, strong rays of light were concentrated. Thanks to this system, a new and curious effect was obtained in the third tableau on the ramparts—flamlet vanishes after the ghost into the obscure blackness of the night. ests are concerned-in short, she needs GLOVER, not DYER, and the notion that DYER will be elected by Democratic votes is a delusion and a snare of which we could wish some other man were made the victim.

The Sun says: "If oleomargarine and whisky were to start side by side untaxed, the argument forcing the tax on one might be applied to the other; but one of the foreme problems for this government now is, not how to increase its revenue, but how to reduce it. The great trouble about the oleomargarine tax is that whereas it was intended for the prothe manufacturers of oleomargarine, it was was a humbug. That was the matter with it.

The Times says: "The Republicans could not, if they would, undo the past, and the policy of the Democratis, as a party, is very uncertain. But it can do no harm, for those who are watching and changing currents. are watching and changing currents of public opinion, to recall occasionally the consequences of trying to run a great party with so large a mixture of cowardice and selfishness, and so little devotion to principle as have characterized the management of the Republican party."

THE TRIBURE.

The Tribune says: "If the President be anxious to make a conspicuous example of offensive partisanship—one that will leave a profound impression upon the public mind—let him dismiss his Private Secretary and rebuke the three members of his Cabinet who were in this city last week laying pipe and puling wires with ward politicians and the bosses of the various halls, and perfecting arrangements for the municipal canvass. Secretary Manning, Secretary Hayard and Secretary Whitney all had-their little thumbs in the politicial pie when they were here. The Private Secretary, who is reputed to be the President's confidential adviser and personal representative whenever political diplomacy is required, was the most actively employed in negotiating with the leaders of the warring factions in this city, Make an example of them, Mr. President Let the country understand once for all thas offensive partisanship must and shall be suppressed."

As regards the rendering of some of the parts criticism may be inade. Mme. Reichambarg is rather colorless as Ophelia. She acts as if she was playing the role of an ingenue in modern comedy. The younger Coquelin as the grave-digger carries his comic effects to the verge of caricature. Sivilan, who plays the King, has not the physique of his criminal personality. Nevertheless, in spite of these shortcomings, the ensemble is excellent, and in 'Hamlet' the role of the hero so overshadowed all the others that these criticisms may seem hypercritical. I will say at once that the Hamlet of the Comedie Francaise, M. Mounet Sully, is magnificent. All the great actors of Europe and America have played this part; each one has left his stamp upon it, brought into relief some new aspect, and rendered the task of playing it more difficult for his successor or rivals. Mounet Sully has no souvenirs to wear; he has studied the role for himself and rendered it with his own delicate and manifold talent. Hamlet is an enigma, a subject of inexhaustible discussion, a character which no one can claim to have thoroughly understood. Shall we then expect Mounet Sully to have understood it? How so, for who shall be the judge? No; the great merits of Mounet Sully's performance are the detailed and varied rendering of the infinite moods of that human orchestra, Hamlet, and the plastic beauty of the actor. No Hamlet has ever been more princely, more elegant, more gentle, more exquisitely grand seigneur than Mounet Sully; no Hamlet more grief-worn, more melancholy, and then again more nervously furious, more remaintically tragic. The melodrama called "Juarez; or, The Mexican War," was produced at the Theatre Chateau D'Au, Paris, on Tuesday evening last. Paul de Cassagnac called on the Bonapartists to go and hiss it down, and there was at one time a prospect of a serious disturbance, but the performance was finally permitted to proceed. The play is founded upon the Maximilian episode of Mexican history. The hero's part is given to Juarez, the Mexican President, while ex-Marshal Bazaine is given the role of villain. Poor Empress Charlotta is made to appear as an excitable woman who is ambitious to wear a crown. Other characters represent the speculator, Jecker, and the Emperor Maximilian. The play is said to contain some fine melodramatic points, but many of the characters are by no means faithful to the originals.

AT THE THEATERS.

Richard Mansfield's "Prince Karl"-"Don

There was evidence of unusual interest last night in the audience of the Olympic concerning the appearance of Mr. Richard Manafeld in his latest creation, "Prince Karl." It was hardly an attraction to draw a Sanday night andlence, and hence the house was not filled, but the quality of the audience was far above the average. Many first-nighters were on hand, filled with recollections of the "Parisian Homance" and Baron de Chevrial, and expectant of new revelations in the way of cleverness. ness.

This condition of mind is not the best for an actor. It demands too much, and, having great expectations, is apt to be disappointed without cause. The element of surprise which is most potent of appreciation must necessarily be lacking. Notwithstanding these unfavorable conditions Mr. Mansfield succeeded in capathring the house. He accomplished it by merit and by the quality of his work, which was skilvil, artistic and characteristic.

Mr. Mansfield cannot be commonplace. It is not in his nature. He may be affected, he may display exotism, he may be commit errors of judgment, but he is original. He is capable of an idea of his own—and it is generally striking—and he is capable of an idea of his own—and it is generally striking—and he is capable of a rile of the interest of the interest of the continuous of the interest of the continuous of the contin

POPE'S THEATER.

McCaull's Opera Company opened at Pope's last night in the latest success, "Don Cossar." The opera is bright and melodious and the company is one of the strongest Mr. McCauli has sent out. It includes Sig. Perugin as Don Cassar, Mr. Edwin Hoff as King Carlos II., Mr. George Oimi as Don Farnandez, Mr. Digby Beil as Donna. U acca, Miss Lillie Post as Mantana, Mr. A. Mama is Capt. Martinez, Mr. Carroli Dalv as the Alcalde, Mr. Herbert, Misses Annie Meyers, Eisle Durand, Jennie Howard, Emma Bennett, Marie Donnelia, Emma Crawford, Ida Eissing, Celia Eissing and Grace Ward. The story of the opera is practically the same as Wallace's "Maritana," but is differently treated, and Dellinger's music is entirely different. It is bright and melodious and was so is plendidly presented in every respect last sight that it made a genuine hit and carried the audience by storm, encore after benore being demanded, and at the close of the performance the company were called before the cartain. The opera is bound to gain immense success.

Mestayer's 'We, Us & Co.'' proved its strength as a fun provoker by drawing an excellent house to the Grand last night by keeping the audience laughing with its absurdities and nonsense. There is little change in the cast from last season. W. A. Mestayer is the T. Willie Rockingham, George Richards is Dr. Mulo Medicus, supple and comical Gus Bruno as Knox Dunlap, Miss Theresa Vaughn as Belinda Magilicudy, and the others. The ideal quartette introduced a number of new songs, the revolving house, the little derman band and the other special features were well received, and the plece went with its accustomed vim.

The Fatal Disaster at the North Chicago

CHICAGO, October 11 .- The accident at th repair-shops of the South Chicago Rolling Mil Company, at North Chicago yesterday, is of a nore serious nature than was at first supposed. The roof, which was corrugated iron supported by heavy trusses, daved in without warning at a time when five men were at worl known. The collapse of the immense roof, 340 feet long and 70 in width, made a terrific report and hundreds of workmen stopped their work and rushed to the ruin. A hundred brawny molders and metal-workers were soon working with all their might to extricate their unfortunate fellow workmen. The list of killed and wounded is as follows:

EDWARD DIVVORS, 30 years. MICHAEL HOPFMANN, body not recovered. ANTON SMITH, bruised and crushed about the body; cannot recover.

JOSEPH HARTZ, badly cut on head and chest.

WILLIAM BOOIN, badly hurt internally, besides cuts on head and chest.

ANDREW SHITHSEI, very dangerously wounded about back and badly crushed.

JOHN DRISCOLL, slight cuts and bruises about head.

THOMAS COWLEY, wounds on breast and head; also hurt internally.
GEORGE POZEAY, struck on back by heavy weight.
CHARLES HONNALD, right leg crushed.
The news of the disaster soon reached the town of South Chicago, where the families of nearly all the rolling-mill employes reside. Is haines are unanown, are also oursed beneath the hore mass of from.

There was not the slightest jar or noise before the roof fell. The five men on the roof were busy cleaning it, as was done every Sunday. The roof was always supposed to be as substantial and solid as a stone wall and no cause has been assigned for the collapse. Had the accident occurred during a week day or night, the loss of life would have been terrible. as a gang of nearly one hundred men usually work in the shop.

The damage to the building and contents will amount to $20,000, which is a small amount compared to what the company will lose by the disabiling of the repair shops at this time.

were made, as well as surveys of the region through which is flowed. Engineer Lane and several men then started to explore the country in the direction of St. Michael's. That point was reached after a journey of twenty-eight days. A rough survey of the country by compass bearings was made. While Lane was away stoney went southwest in the region of Selewik Lake and the river of the same name. He noted various small lakes, rivers and mountain ranges. On February 1, Stoney went eastward to the headwaters of Putnam and Noatoak Rivers, and was gone forty-five days about these headwaters. He reached an immense lake, on the banks of which natives from theregion of Point Barrow, the most northern point of the continent of North America, meet to trade with the Indians of Pugam Valley. It generally takes the natives two seasons to make this trip, the severity of the winter compelling them to remain in winter quarters near the lake. Stoney's intention was to make the trip to Point Barrow from this lake, but an immense arid pisin would have to be traversed, which made it impossible on account of the scarcity of dog food. On April 12, however, Ensign Howard and F. J. Price, a salior, started for Point Barrow and after great hardships and privations succeeded in reaching it August 16 of the present year, after making a journey of ninety-six days. As stated in Saturday's Post-Disparch, it is likely that the committee will refuse to consider the other contests for the very good reason that it is powerless to rescind the action of the convention, which, through its Committee on Credentials and by its own vote, has recognized one set of elegates and the committee man elected by those delegates.

There is little doubt about the complexion of Chairman Judge's Democratic Central Committees sub-committees. The Chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee lies between Jim Carroll of the Tweitth Ward and Tom Wand of the Fourteenth Ward. The one who gets left can have the chairmanship of the Campaign Committee or they may both elect to remain on the Ways and Means Committee to remain on the Ways and Means Committee, In which event Mike Sulliyan of the Twentieth Ward will very likely get the Campaign Committee. GRAND WEDDING IN ST. LOUIS SOCIETY

ohn Mullanphy Cates, an event long looked arward to in fashionable circles, will take ace this afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. Vinorming the holy rite, and Prof.

G. Robyn officiating at the organ. he church has been profusely decorated with owers and the altar will be illuminated by nnumerable waxen tapers, which, together with the eleven bridemaids chosen from the fairest of St. Louis' fair daughters, the pretty vitness it. The bridemaids are Miss Hol nbe of St. Paul, Miss Zeilig, Miss Catharine Lindsay, Miss Mimi Flanagan, Miss Marian Lindsay, Miss Etta Powell, Mis damie Green, Miss Juliet Wilkinson, Miss

Lindsay, Miss Etta Powell, Miss Mamie Green, Miss Juliet Wilkinson, Miss Mamie Green, Miss Elsie Clemens and Miss Nettie Harney. The ushers are Mr. Henry Lindsay, Mr. Theo. Benoîst, Mr. Dan Russell, Mr. Wilson Hunt, Mr. Lil McNair, Mr. Fred Zeilig, Mr. Tom Larkin, Mr. Breckenridge Clemens and Mr. Waiter Scott. At the first notes of the wedding march the THE PROCESSION will enter the door, the ushers leading the way, and followed by the bridemaids, who will stop outside the rails of the sanctuary, forming the lines through which the bride, leaning upon the arm of her first bridesmaid, will pass, and entering the sanctuary, will be met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Soulard Lanotte. The ushers and bridemaids will follow and form lines on each side within the rails of the altar, where they will stand during the ceremony and close up benind the bride and groom as they pass out of the church. The bride will wear a very simple, but elegant gown of heavy white corded silk made with a long train falling in deep box pleats from the waist line and finished with a heavy cord. The tablier is covered with long pointed draperies of escurial gauze looped high upon the hip and carried over the train in bouffante pours at the back; the corsage is made in deep points back and front, laced down the back and cut squars at the throat; beneath the finish of gauze a collet of pearis will encircle her throat. The sleeves are made of escurial gauze, and met by long white gloves, tied above the elbow. Her fan is of point lace with pearl sticks, and in her hand she will carry a large bunch of lillies of the yalley, tied with white satin ribbons. A veil of illusion, confined to the fair blonde hair by an aigrette of diamonds, will cover the superb toilette.

THE BRIDEMAIDS

will all be dressed exactly alike, in white satin surah covered with dainty frills and draperies of Paris muslin, en traine, with deep-pointed corsage of surah silk, cut en coeur and confined over the shoulders with white moire ribbons, matching the rosette and flots of moire which confine the draperies at the side. In their hair they will wear aigrettes of white feathers and will carry large balls of white roses tied with long white satin ribbon.

THE ECCEPTION.

After the wedding there will be a large reception at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Soulard, which will be followed by a soiree dansante. Mrs. Soulard will wear an elegant toilet of black Lyons velvet richly trimmed with rare old point lace and handsome diamonds.

To each of the bridemaids was presented by the groom a souvenir of the happy occasion in the shape of a ring set with a diamond.

This marriage will closely unite two of the old French families aiready united by marriage, the father of the groom having chosen for his second wife the widowed mother of the bride.

Col. Gilmore will give his usual first part and the Old Folks' Concert will constitute the second part. The cnorus will be composed of seventy five selected volces, and the solos and quartettes will be in capable hands. All of the singers will be attired in costumes of the revolutionary period and many quaint results in the dress of our grandmothers and grandfathers may be anticipated. The managers have prepared a little surprise for the audience in the opening which cannot fall to prove attractive. Gilmore's full band will furnish the accompanionents and for the time will be placed in the

That good cigars can be manufactured and sold for a reasonable amount of money has been proven thoroughly by Mr. Schottmuler whose interesting display is visited and watched by thousands every day. One of the wonders of the season is the puzzle which attracts dense throngs around the case of T. B. Boyd & Co. St. Louisans and strangers are pondering on the one interesting question: "Is the Bachelor Alive?" The best proof is the proof of the senses, and this is the kind of evidence John Meier uses to demonstrate the excellence of his shoes. The articles are made before the eyes of visitors, and a clear idea of the merit of the work is thus gained.

CHAMPION BEACH.

TATEMENTS THAT HE IS ABOUT TO GIVE UP

rds of the Great League Bace of 1886-The Marcons Sign a New Fielder-Budget of Base Ball Gossip-La Blanche Arrives in Town-Sports and Sporting.

The Canadian Sportsman of Saturday makes rather sensational sanduncement that ach, the champion carsman of the world, il retire shortly from active work. The will retire shortly from active work. The sportsman does not give its authority for the statement, but simply says that the champion has announced himself to that effect. It also credits Beach with saying that, having won everything more is to win, and having defeated everything there is to defeat, there is nothing to do now except to quit with blushing honors thick upon him. The ampion says he has cleared over $50,000 on wing already, and that he will devote the rest of his days to quiet work on his farm in

Mr. J. A. St. John, the backer of Jake Ganfaur, was seen this morning in reference to the above statement: Mr. St. John said that he had no intimation of the retirement of Mr. Beach beyond what the Sportsman contained, but if the Sportsman's information was correct he was quite sorry. He 'in'l calculated upon inducing the Austral'an to come to America and row Jake for the championship under the stars and stripes. If Beach was now to retire all these little schemes would be knocked in the head and Gandaur would be compelled to .ow some one other than his late conqueror for the rare honors of champion of the world.

Mr. St. John was asked just what effect would follow should Beach retire. He replied that in that case the race between Gaudaur and Hanlan in the spring would in all probability be made one for the distinction.

THE WAR OVER. The League Has a Close Race with an Exciting Finish.

The League season closed Saturday and the Chicagos won the championship on that day. Detroit having failed to win its games with Philadelphia and Boston failing to defeat the White Stockings. The race was a close and an interesting one. Spalding's team won first place by only 2 per cent. over Detroit; the latter was 7 per cent. higher than New York, third, which club was closely pressed by Phila-delphia, with a difference of but 1 per cent. between them. Boston, fifth, drops off 20 per cent, and is 25 per cent, better than Washington, which adorns the bottom of the column. The last records of the League are given below:

The association was organized in Chicago in 1882, held its first session in St. Paul, second at Indianapolis, third at Chicago, 1885, and there resolved to meet in St. Louis for a three-days' session, beginning October 19. The association is for purely technical discussion. Said President Burnett: "A roadmaster, who sticks on one road for a number of years never goes to see anything and hever has a chance to talk with other roadmasters, will blindly do lots of things that are wrong, believing at the same time he is working for the best interests of his employers. We discuss practical subjects and each member gets the benefit of ther members' experience. The programme prepared includes reports of committees on the following subjects 1. Unfinished business. 2. Foot guards for frogs and switches. 3. Best methods of elevating curves. 4. Broken vs. even joints. 5. Guard rails for frogs—bring tracing. 6. Is a standard gauge advisable for all railroads, regardless of cost to make the change. 7. Standard track (stone, gravel, sand, etc.) First—what shall be the roadmasters' sim? Second—Are railroads retting the best bossible results for the money expended in track repairs? In what way can my track be improved with little or no additional cost; or the money expended in track repairs? In what way can my track be improved with little or no additional cost: 1 is in this manner all the information in the association on any subject is 5 rought to the surface. LONDON, October 11.—The Daily News on Friday published the translation of a long and Arriday published the translation of a long and amusing letter sent home by one of the natives of Ceylon, who has been attached to the Colonial Exhibition here. The following extracts will no doubt be quite as thoroughly ted in New York as they are in Lonn: "The Englishman here is a very com mon individual, and when he comes to Ceylon he is a great man; but a black man is a great DR. One case was heard a few days ago, where the people were of high caste. There are several theaters. Ten minutes will take you to one. The English peo-ple are very fond of going out in the night, and it is owing to this that there are so many eaters. It is said some are good and some bad. In the good ones the charges are high, but to the low ones one can go for 1 shilling. For everything coal is used; firewood cannot

You must see the teeth of the low class of English women; they are quite green. You will be surprised to hear that brandy and whisky cannot be got everywhere here. Everybody drinks beer, and it is strong beer. There are no liquor shops like the Pettah, on Main street, with a back door to let people in. The ginshop is called a public house, and each has a name on the door. The horse-keepers only drink gin. Saturday is a very bad day here. This must be because it is pay-day and every man goes to a beer shop. Some take their wives, too, and drink, and sing, and fight. There are places where the bad women come to and rob the men. It must be owing to this that the wives don't like their husbands and run away."

Park an electric locomotive and car, and as soon as the necessary legislative powers can be obtained regular trips will be made and passengers carried. This is the first serious attempt that has been made in London to use electricity as a motive power for cars or tramways. The 'company is thoroughly satisfied with its experiments and is proceeding with the manufacture of electric locomotives. The speed is about the same as that of the ordinary cars, and the cost or maintenance is about 40 parcent lower than on the present tram-car system, the saving effected being estimated at over $200,000.

THE FRENCH DELEGATES TO AMERICA. The French delegates appointed to be present at the unveiling of the Statue of Liberty will sail by the French Line from Havre next Saturday. Prince Antonio Borghese, who died at his villa near Rome, this week, and left a fortune of 60,000,000 francs, was born in Paris in 1814, and married the daughter of the Earl of Shrewsbury in 1886, by whom he had only one child, Princess Agnes. The first wife died and he then married the daughter of Alexandre de La Rochefoucauld, Duc d'Essistae of France, and by her had eight sons and two daughters. His fortune is to be apportioned in equal parts among the descendants of his English and French wives. The Borghese family is one of the largest and most important in Italy.

It is furthermore said that Mr. Von Hoffman intends to close up his business affairs in this country and to take up his permanent abode in Paris. The Marquis de Mores is now at Medora, Dak, and has not been in France this year. An intimate friend of the Marquis yesterday said: "It is true that there has been a disagreement between the Marquis and Mr. Von Hoffman, but I do not consider it a matter in which the public is interessed, and I prefer not to go into the details. If the difficulty should result in embarrassing the Marquis, which is extremely doubtful, it is positive that it would have no effect upon the National Consumers' Meat Company."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Duffy's Formula. THE WEARY AND SLEEPLESS.

209 E. 107TH ST., New York, N.Y., July 1, 1886. Dear sire—My wifeins been using Duffy's Formula and it has helped her most wonderfully. Sire the considerably with weakfulness and to relieve her failed and trying most everything to relieve her failed and the common profound and restful slumber; the heartburn is gone, and her system is nicely toned up. STEPHEN J. DUVALL.

MISS F. J. WHITTHORNE, Shelbyville, Tenn., writes: "I pronounce Duffy's Pure Mait Whiskey, takeh in small doses, the best tonic in the world; it gave me great strength." Mas. S. SHOREY, 26812 W. Fayette street. Baltimore, Md., writes: "By advice of my physician, I used Duffy's Pure Mait Whiskey for nervousness and debility, and its most wonderful recuperative and curative properties prove it to be an excellent medicinal tonic. My improvement was rapid. In three weeks I gained fourteen pounds. My appetitle is splendic. Nervousness and indigestion have disappeared; general system greatly improved, and I recommend your whiskey as the best prescription ever given by my physician."

Gentlemen—Up to this time I have consumed 11 bottles of your Duffy's Fure Mait Whiskey, and I find it very good. It produces sleep, gives me natural rest, and I awake in the morning refreshed, a thing I have not done for many years. It produces no bad effect afterwards, like common whiskey. My appetits has improved. A. G. LOFGREN.

NATIONAL SOLDIERS' HOSPITAL, Togus, Me.,
Gentlemen—I have used two bottles of Duffy's Gure Mait Whiskey, and was surprised by the effect they had in regard to sleep. I could not sleep for over six months more than three or four hours a night, now I can sleep eight and nine hours.

JOSEPH BACHMAN.

Gentlemen—I have been troubled for some time with loss of sleep, but since I have been using your Dutty's Pure Malt Whiskey I have been getting a good night's sleep.
